CALL OF DUTY LEAGUE PLAYOFFS | AUG. 19-23, 2020

CALL OF DUTY LEAGUE PLAYOFFS

The End is Here. After a seven-month season that began in Minneapolis, it is time for the Call of Duty League Playoffs. The Playoffs tournament runs Aug. 19-23, with the final four teams advancing to Championship Weekend, Aug. 29-30. All action will be streamed on the Call of Duty League YouTube channel.

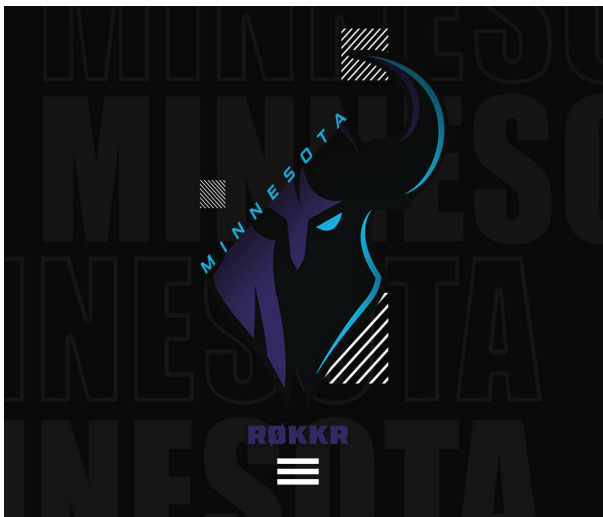

This week's Playoff tournament is double elimination. The 12 Call of Duty League teams have been seeded based on their regular season point accumulation. The top-eight teams will begin in the winners' bracket, while the bottom four teams start in the losers' bracket.

The RøkkR starting roster is changing heading into Playoffs; Kaden "Exceed" Stockdale will be replacing Adam "GodRx" Brown in the starting five. The team hopes to change their playstyle and improve their performance after struggling to get points late in the season.

With 120 points to show for their 2020 regular season, Minnesota RøkkR is the No. 8 seed heading into Playoffs and will match up with No. 5 New York Subliners at 3:30 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 20. The No. 1-2 seeded teams will have a two-round bye and No. 3-4 will have a one-round bye in the bracket.

With a win against the Subliners, RøkkR would advance to play No. 4 Chicago Huntsmen at 2 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 21. If RøkkR lose their first-round match, they will drop to the losers' bracket and play a TBD team on Saturday, Aug. 22.

Minnesota RøkkR will host an official Watch Party in their Discord server — linked here!
